Overview

Axxess Home Health (formerly AgencyCore) is a comprehensive, cloud-based Electronic Medical Record (EMR) and mobile application designed to streamline operations for home health organizations of all sizes. The platform is trusted by more than 8,000 organizations and provides a complete suite of solutions to manage clinical, administrative, and financial workflows.

Key Features and Capabilities:

Clinical Management: Includes an interactive wound manager, real-time validations, OASIS analysis and scrubber to ensure documentation accuracy and compliance, and automatic care plan generation.

Regulatory Compliance: Features built-in compliance tools, including Electronic Visit Verification (EVV) at the point of care, and support for the Patient-Driven Groupings Model (PDGM).

Revenue Cycle Management (RCM): Offers automated claims submissions, Medicare eligibility checks, PECOS confirmation, and AI-driven predictive insights to maximize clean claims and improve cash flow.

Operations & Administration: Provides centralized scheduling, staffing management, customizable dashboards, and a single sign-on (SSO) solution for all integrated modules.

Mobile Accessibility: The HIPAA-compliant mobile app allows field staff to complete documentation and coordinate care anytime, anywhere, on both iOS and Android devices.

The software aims to improve patient outcomes, enhance staff productivity, and ensure regulatory adherence in a dynamic healthcare landscape. It is a highly scalable solution for small, medium, and enterprise-level home health agencies.
