Overview

Claimocity is an all-in-one, AI-powered practice management and revenue cycle management (RCM) platform built specifically for hospitalists and facility-based providers. The software is cloud and mobile-based, allowing doctors to manage their practice, billing, and coding on the go, which can save up to 85% of administrative billing work.

Key Features and Capabilities

The core of Claimocity is its AI-Powered Charge Capture, which seamlessly integrates with existing Electronic Health Record (EHR) systems using HL7 and custom APIs. The AI engine meticulously reads signed clinical notes, identifies billable services, suggests accurate CPT and diagnosis codes, and automates the claim drafting process, ensuring high accuracy and compliance. The platform also includes a Smart Census tool, real-time claim tracking, and Practice IQ reporting and analytics, which provides in-app dashboards for monitoring provider activity, revenue, and benchmarking.

Target Users and Use Cases

Claimocity is an ideal solution for inpatient practices, hospitalists, and facility-based physicians across various specialties, including Internal Medicine, Critical Care, and Emergency Medicine. It caters to practices of all sizes, from small clinics to large enterprise healthcare organizations. The primary use cases are optimizing the Revenue Cycle Management (RCM) process, automating medical billing and coding, ensuring MIPS compliance, and significantly reducing the administrative burden on providers.

Support and Integration

The platform boasts a World-Class Support Team with 24/7 availability via email, phone, and chat. It offers seamless integration with over 3,000 facilities and major EHR/EMR systems like Epic, Cerner,

MediTech, and PointClickCare, ensuring a smooth and rapid onboarding process.
