Overview

Tebra is a comprehensive, cloud-based healthcare technology platform formed in November 2021 from the merger of Kareo and PatientPop. It is designed specifically for independent medical practices and medical billing companies, currently serving over 165,000 providers. The platform offers an all-in-one solution that combines Electronic Health Records (EHR+ is ONC-certified), Practice Management (PM), Revenue Cycle Management (RCM), and Patient Engagement tools to help practices thrive.

Key Benefits & Capabilities: Tebra's core value proposition is the unification of clinical, financial, and practice growth technology into a single, intuitive system. This integration streamlines administrative and clinical workflows, reduces manual work, and helps practices attract new patients and get paid faster.

Clinical: Features include an ONC-certified EHR+, customizable charting, e-prescribing, lab integration, and built-in telehealth/secure video chat.

Financial/RCM: Automated billing, real-time insurance verification, claims processing and scrubbing, and patient payment collection via credit card, ACH, or digital wallet.

Practice Growth/Engagement: Tools for online scheduling, a 24/7 patient portal, automated appointment reminders (text/email), digital patient intake forms, and reputation management to gather and monitor patient reviews.

Target Users: Independent medical practices, new practices, and medical billing companies across various specialties including family medicine, pediatrics, primary care, and psychology.

Ease of Use: The platform is frequently praised for its user-friendly navigation and intuitive interface, making it a strong choice for new practices.
